DATE OF NEXT COMMITTEE MEETING

Thursday 20th September

All items for inclusion, whether they are handwritten, typed, 3½ inch floppy or via e-mail, MUST be submitted by the date of the meeting or they will not be published until the following month. These articles may be handed in to any Newsletter Committee member. Please send e-mails to tanya@becker.globalnet.co.uk

Enford Newsletter Committee reserves the right to reject or omit from publication any material that is considered by majority of Committee Members to be detrimental to any person or which is not in the best interest of the community as a whole. All letters and articles must be signed, but the Committee will withhold the name of the writer if this is requested at the time of sending it in.

August/September 2007

Those of you who are regular readers or contributors to the Newsletter will have noticed the absence of the July issue. This was due to unforeseen circumstances. Having to spend a week in hospital in Spain made it impossible for me to write and produce the master copy for the printers. This put the committee in a difficult position. They would have been able to put together much of the Newsletter if they had had access to the items which had already been sent to me. Unfortunately this was not the case and of course no-one would want to access someone else's computer and personal email box.

It was with much regret, therefore, that there was little they could do. I would like to offer my apologies to all those who in any way felt let down by the absence of Newsletter last month.

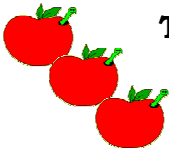

As you can see we are now just about back to normal and it is business as usual.

There will of course be a break of a month after this August/September issue as the Committee does not meet during the month of August.

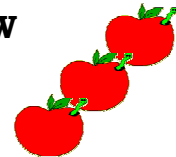

Have a really enjoyable summer – rain or shine!

THE CHISENBURY AND ENFORD FLOWER SHOW

This will now take place on Saturday 18th August

There is no SPTA News in this month's Newsletter. If you wish to know dates and times of activities on and over Salisbury Plain look out for the information on The Parish Council Notice Boards.

A RESPONSE FROM WILTSHIRE COUNTY - FOOTPATHS

Dear Mr Beardlsey

I am very much aware of the poor state of both these paths and we do our best to keep them clear of annual growth. I have also highlighted the fact that both paths are in need of resurfacing and drainage works, although no funding is available for these works at present. I have added them to my list for a second cut as soon as we can fit them in but please be aware that there many other paths like this round the county which also require attention- with a limited workforce it is not always possible to deal with issues as quickly as we would like. With the increased rainfall we have had this summer it is almost impossible to keep up with growth on narrow paths such as these.

I am sorry I ma unable to give you a more positive response.

Yours sincerely
Esther Daly

ENFORD CHURCH TEAS AT CHISENBURY PRIORY
17th June 2007

Thank you to all those ladies who so generously contributed to the teas at Chisenbury Priory on the 11th June with their cakes and particularly to Ann Brend for all the delicious scones. Thank you too, to all those ladies and gentlemen who helped on the day, serving teas, collecting the used cups & saucers and washing up. Particular thanks go to Margaret and Sandra Wilson, who tirelessly poured over 200 teas. The rain held off and the teas raised just over £450 which, together with a generous anonymous donation of £156, made a total of just over £606 for the church. The Parochial Church Council would like to thank John and Tessa Manser very much indeed for allowing us to use this occasion to raise money in aid of the church.

Margaret & Tony Lock

Enford

Dear Editor

My wife and I recently moved to Enford from Cornwall; as being of retiring age we decided it was a sensible time to move nearer the family who live near Amesbury and the surrounding area.

The move itself was quite traumatic, as anyone who has moved house will know. We also faced considerable problems when we arrived but the whole point of this is to say how amazed and grateful we both are for the kindness and help given to us from the moment we arrived by all the neighbours in New Buildings.

Rarely have either of us experienced such generosity of spirit. We feel we have arrived amongst friends that have made the move so much more worthwhile.

From the bottom of our hearts we thank you and feel so grateful to you all.

Yours sincerely
Margaret and Tony.

Poco, Poco
or
A Broken Leg with A Spanish Twist

“Poco, poco”. These are words that will stay with me for a long time yet. They first came to my ears as gentle words of encouragement as I gingerly took my first steps in a hospital room in Northern Spain. The operation, I was told, had gone well and all I had to do now was to rest.

Little had I known, as Steve and I had set off for our walking holiday the Sunday before, that three days later we would be having very strange yet amusing conversations in a hospital room in Torrelavega with a delightful Spanish family. My Spanish at best is non-existent but when circumstances demand some sort of communication it is surprising the extent to which one can use actions, bits of other languages and illustrations to get by.

Communication might well have been a problem if it had not been for our excellent guide who was leading us in the foothills of the Picos de Europa. This wonderful man, Andy, helped us through the aftermath of the accident, talking to the ambulance medics and eventually with the hospital staff.

It was while we were talking to the doctors in A & E that I was asked to produce my E111. Fortunately I always carry this in my purse and so having once seen this small but very valuable card the staff were able to admit me immediately. If I had left it in my hotel room it would have meant a three hour journey at best before any type of treatment could have been given.

By the end of the day my leg was in a temporary plaster. I was in a twin ensuite room and Steve had returned to the hotel with Andy. I was left to reflect on all that had happened since 9.30 that morning.

After taking a cable car to the highest point we had begun a long steady descent back to Espinama our base for the week. The scenery had been quite magical. At the top severe rock faces in all the shades of grey you can imagine. Underfoot somewhat rocky with loose stones but nothing hazardous. As we descended the terrain changed and as more and more green crept into the landscape we found that talking with our companions became easier.

It was a beautiful day – neither hot nor cold. Good walking weather.

I suppose I must have been talking too much and not concentrating as much as I should. The result was that from being upright with two good legs I was on the ground, twisted with one mangled leg. From that moment on I witnessed the extent to which people will help and care for others when in need.

With no mobile connection due to the location and a further two hours walking the situation could have been difficult. I think we were all completely and utterly amazed when an old Landrover driven by a local workman appeared coming towards us on the track. Now I am sure many of you will have had the experience of travelling in old Landrovers so you will appreciate when I say they are not the most comfy of vehicles. Nevertheless despite excruciating pain as the bones of my leg slopped from side to side, I was so grateful to this ‘Senor’ for being there and ‘carrying’ me down the mountain to the village. I don’t know what he was doing there or why he was there. I just hope that he knows how very, very grateful I am to him.

“Poco, poco”, Senor Alvarez is telling me to go slowly, slowly, little by little. He is demonstrating how to use crutches which amuses Senora immensely. She indicates to me that he really has no idea and is even “loco, loco”. I understand her to say that he should let me rest a while. Of course he does as he is told and the couple once more become silent.

The broken leg is now on the mend due to some creative metalwork and screws resembling the old Meccano that my brother and I played with as children.

I am hopeful by Christmas I shall be no longer be “poco, poco and definitely not loco, loco” but be able to enjoy all the parties and festivities.

Our holiday was cut short and there has been some pain and some difficult moments. All these have passed. We have also been touched by friendship, kindness and good humour. We have briefly brushed alongside and into the lives of others we would never have met. All of this will not pass but will remain with us.

Remember the E111? Never forget it. Always have it with you.

Thank You

Dear Jane,

Thank you so much for the donation of £90.12 that you raised through fundraising. Your support is very much appreciated.

We have put the money towards new sport and games equipment, so the children can enjoy the outdoors even more. All we need now is the sun!!!

Thank you again

Kind Regards

Once again a HUGE thank you to everyone who supports my jumble sales. We recently raised £117.00 for the Chernobyl Children's Lifeline and £100 went to the Wiltshire Wildlife Rescue.

My next sale will be for the Enford Church towards the new toilet, which will probably be held in September. Please look out for the poster.

Thanks,
Jane Young

Dear Friends

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH ENFORD

Not a day goes by without something on our TVs about taking care of our planet. If there is one thing that has really done well in the Vicarage garden in the last two years it is the planting of a hedge around the garden to cover our wooden fence. I did some exploring and found that hedges are very old indeed going back to before 1066 – the Norman Conquest, and some over 150 years old. In the early days they acted as boundaries between one estate and another, each landowner dug a ditch along the edge of his property, piled the soil in a bank and planted hawthorns along it. Other hedges are the remnants of woodlands or even Royal Forests. Other hedges date from Tudor Times when farmers began to enclose the old open fields and changed them into proper compact farms. After all, the point of a hedge was to keep animals in one field grazing and crops in another – hedges stopped the two getting mixed up. Hedges, especially in the Fens, serve as great protection against soil erosion. They are also great refuges for many species of wild animals and plants serving as ideal shelter for mother nature. In many parts of the country hedges are being put back and in others being uprooted for farmers to have bigger fields to suit their bigger machinery. Maybe by trying to achieve one objective we maybe creating fresh problems at the same time. How much we need to be more protective of all forms of life.

Colin Fox

The Future of the Avon Valley Parishes Unite Durrington

It seems likely in the next few years that Durrington will work more closely with Bulford, Milston, Figheldean, Netheravon, Fittleton and Enford.

Due to ill health, Peter Tamplin the Vicar of Durrington has had to retire early and as a result there will be no full time Priest in Durrington for the next few months. Rachel Bussey, a non – stipendiary Priest, has done sterling work keeping the Parish going in Peter's absence. When the new Priest is appointed it is hoped that whoever comes will work very closely with this group of parishes.

The Church of England talks a lot about shared Ministry and in these days of cutbacks clergy need to work closely in support of one another. We are indebted to our two Lay readers and Lay pastoral assistants in the Avon Valley for all the help and care they give, so often quietly behind the scenes.

As events happen, parish profiles are written, job specifications are produced, I will keep you up to date with what happens.

I would be grateful for your thoughts and prayers that the right person comes forward in what has the potential for an exciting phase in the life of the Avon Valley Parishes

FITTLETON DOG SHOW – THANK YOU

The Dog Show was fortunate in having the most balmy of weather with a breeze to take the heat off the dogs. A good crowd seemed to enjoy the show and the other attractions. The PCC members who ran the attractions are being thanked by others, but can I say how much I appreciated their efforts.

My thanks firstly to Mrs Maunsell for hosting the event on her lovely garden lawns at Fittleton Manor to jointly help Church Funds and Canine Charities.

The judges were fellow members of Salisbury & South Wilts Canine Society who kindly gave their services free of charge. Without stewards it is impossible to run a dog show and I am grateful to Margaret Kirkham of Water Lane, Enford, and Roz Perry of Coombe Lane, Enford, for taking on the task of stewarding.

The Registration department was run by Sharon Cranch of Fittleton and her friend with help from Ruth Smith of Whitmarsh Close, Netheravon.

Special thanks to my wife Jane who helped to set up the rings and Registration caravan before the show and take everything down afterwards. On the day she cooked lunch for Judges and Stewards after going to Amesbury to collect the scones donated by REEVES the bakers. She then helped Margaret Wilshire in the Barn.

My final thanks go to the dog food manufacturers Pedigree Chum, Purina & Science Diet who kindly donated the novelty prizes. The main dog show prizes, event licenses and rosettes were kindly donated by the local branch of UK Independence Party.

CLEAN LIVING

You have probably seen our cleaning van around the village as we operate a Carpet & Upholstery cleaning company- CleanLiving. Some of you have already used our service and have been amazed at the results we achieved. Stain removal is our speciality. Steve is more than happy to help anyone with a cleaning problem on carpets & upholstery. Of course we cannot guarantee the removal of every stain, but we are confident that, with our specialist training, if we cannot remove it then no one else will either.

As an introduction to our services we are offering to clean your hall & stairs FREE when you have your lounge carpet cleaned and Stain Protected.

So call Vanessa my wife and business partner or Geraldine for your FREE survey.
